STORM SWEEPS TWENTY STATES

West and Middle West Suffer Greatly From Elements Yesterday.

ONE HUNDRED KILLED.

Six Hundred Injured and Property Loss Estimated at Five Million Dollars.

Washington, March 22.—Weather Bureau reports today show the great western storm of yesterday and last night is raging through the St. Lawrence Valley on its way to sea, leaving behind a long swath of death and destruction.

While returns from some of the stricken sections were still vague it was estimated today that the death list would total near to the hundred mark and the property damage reach into the millions.

Telegraph and telephone service were crippled in wide sections of the country through which the great storm swept, making the official reports very slow.

Buffalo, N. Y., March 22.—The big storm from the west raged over the lake and out St. Lawrence river way during most of the night and today found the city telephone and telegraph service crippled; many houses stripped of their roofs, and half finished buildings demolished. At times the wind exceeded 88 miles an hour.

Water in the inner harbor rose five feet under the impact of the wind from the other side of the lake. The winter fleet, with immense cargoes of grain was threatened with destruction but rode through the storm safely. Fire tugs rescued a dozen fishermen from ice floes in the lake.

Reports from other towns in western New York today indicate heavy damages. Niagara Falls and Tonawanda were as heavily hit as Buffalo.

Cleveland, O. March 22.—Six dead, a score missing or unaccounted for, many injured and property damage estimated at more than $2,000,000 is the summary today of the eighty-mile gale that swept over Ohio yesterday.

Tiffin and Seneca counties suffered most.

Three men are believed to have perished in the lake near Sandusky. They were seen to leave the harbor in a small boat early in the morning. A few hours later the overturned boat was discovered, pounding on the rocks. No trace of the men has been found.

Chicago, March 22.—The toll of dead in the storm that swept twenty states of the west and middlewest yesterday probably will reach 100. Six hundred were injured and a property loss aggregating at least $5,000,000 done.

Partially restored communication from towns in the south today brought reports of terrible destruction by tornadoes. The wire damages has been so great that it probably will be several days before the exact number of dead is known.

A cold wave followed the storm and zero temperature was reported today from western states.

Detroit, Mich., March 22.—Accurate estimates of the havoc wrought by yesterday's wind storm in Michigan—the worst in the forty-two years history of the Weather Bureau in the state—were still impossible today. Many cities and sections of the state—were still impossible today. Many cities and sections of the state still unreported because of the prostration of telephone and telegraph wires, it was known that the property loss will run into millions of dollars. It is also known that one person was killed, two fatally injured and about one hundred others hurt.

A drop of temperature over night caused great suffering among the hundreds of persons made homeless by the storm.

In Detroit conservative estimates of property damage today placed the loss to crops and orchards in southern mation from state points indicates that this figure will be increased by at least one million when the total property destruction in the state is known. In addition it is estimated that the loss to crops an dorchards n southern Michigan will exceed the million dollar mark.

Pittsburgh, Pa., March 22.—Storm reports today indicate that yesterday's gale did not take such high toll in this district as it did farther west, but the death list for West Virginia, western Pennsylvania and New York totaled four; many were injured and property loss was heavy.

Hamilton, Ont., March 22.—Daylight today revealed terrific damage to this city by the great storm that swept in from the southwest and lasted through the night.

Many buildings are complete wrecks; trees were uprooted by the dozen, plate glass windows in a score of stores were blown in, electric lights and telegraph and telephone poles torn down and many persons hurt. There were not fatalities.

SAYS SHE FEARED ADMIRAL.

Thought He Would Kill Her and Her Daughter.

Chicago, March 22—Incidents bearing upon the relations between Rear Admiral Eaton and his wife came to light here yesterday in a letter written by Mrs. Eaton March 15, 1911, to Marshall E. Galion, a local attorney, who acted for her in her divorce proceeding against her first husband, Daniel Henry Ainsworth, in 1906.

The letter, written from Assinipi, Mass., referring to the Admiral, says: "The condition of this poor man is dreadful; he is so much worse, and I fear to stay here this winter. My leaving him alone with my mother, while I was in Chicago made him wild. If I had a doubt of his insanity, which I never had, would be removed quickly, as he is so much worse, and what am I to do?

"He is a sick, helpless and sad old man, and it goes to my heart. He relies on me entirely. I am his eyes, brain and life, and still, how can I stay here alone and let him kill me and poor little innocent Dorothy, and he will do it, and then wonder where we are. He is the most dangerous, subtle man I ever saw, and still I have no way of escape.

"Public opinion, his rank, his age and the navy are all against me. All doctors are too diplomatic and afraid to attempt to deal with him as he should be dealt with and it will cost me hundreds of dollars to get evidence and take a year at least to get it in shape and then probably will be outwitted by sentiment and pity.

"He is the most dangerous man you could meet any place.

"Please help me. What shall I do? What do you advise me as the most practical? After Friday I shall be here alone with him. Is it wise? He is so subtle and sly. Would you get a common, cheap woman, just to have some one with me? Of course, such a person would not be able to detect his trouble, only a person drilled to brain trouble or familiar with insanity.

"If he is as dangerous as I believe, I must protect my life, so find out whether you can get me a woman who is a Sherlock Holmes in criminal insanity and of highest moral character and high standing with doctors and alienists, one whose word would go. If she said he was insane they would do the rest. Please see what you can do for me and advise me."

WILL NOT REVIEW THE ALLEN CASE

Chief Justice Says No Constitutional Question is Involved.

WILL DIE ON THE 28th.

Last Hope of Condemned Men Vanishes With Refusal of Supreme Court to Take Action.

Washington, March 22.—Chief Justice White of the United States Supreme Court, today refused to review the convictions of Floyd Allen and his son, Claude, sentenced to be electrocuted next Friday at Richmond, Va., for "shooting up" the Hillsville courthouse last March.

Chief Justice White said he had carefully reviewed the papers submitted by the attorneys for the Allens and that no constitutional question was involved sufficient to warrant allowance of an appeal by the high court. The Allens' attorneys had requested the court to grant a writ of error to the Virginia Court of Appeals and afterward failed to have the federal courts of Virginia grant a stay of execution, when Governor Mann refused to commute the Allens' sentences.

COLD WAVE ARRIVES.

Decided Drop in Temperature—Eclipse of Moon.

A cold wave predicted by the U. S. Weather Bureau arrived last night and a decided drop in temperature took place.

The forecast last night was "Fair and much colder Saturday; Sunday, probably increasing cloudiness."

The temperature of yesterday on an average was 19 degrees above normal, and as late as 8 o'clock last night thermometer marked 64 degrees, only two degrees lower than that of Jacksonville, Fla.

Early in the afternon a typical spring shower swept over city, and for nearly half an hour the rain pattered down merrily, Then the clouds rolled away long before the close of the day and the sun shone in a clear sky.

Between the hours of 5:30 and 8:30 o'clock this morning the moon hid her face behind the shadow of the earth It was a total eclipse and one of the longest in many years.

The "grene cheese orb" was entirely obscured about six o'clock, and was not entirely emerged from the earth's shadow until 8:43 o'clock.

WELL-KNOWN HERE.

The news of the arrest of Mrs. Jennie May Eaton, widow of Rear Admiral Eaton, charged with having administered poison to her husband has created much interest in Alexandria where she was born and spent her girlhood. She has a number of cousins here, several of whom are well-known business men.

Mrs. Eaton, as stated in the Gazette two weeks ago, is the daughter of the late George W. Harrison, whose widow is living with her daughter in Massachusetts. She was born forty years ago on the south side of Prince street between Royal and Fairfax streets, where is now located the home of Alexandria Lodge of Elks. Her father was a wholesale fish merchant operating a large packing house at the corner of King and Lee streets. More than thirty years ago he disposed of his business in this city and the family went to Washington to live. It was there that Mrs. Eaton married D. A. Ainsworth, who was connected with the government Mr. Harrison, his daughter and two friends, were drowned while crossing Thunder Bay.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Harvey Marshall, aged 28, was shot and killed while endeavoring to gain admission to the home of Mrs. Arstella Rake at Flemington, N. J., about midnight, Thursday night. Benjamin Rake, the woman's son, aged 15, is in the county jail here charged with the shooting.

Arthur Jones and William Watson, white men, were hanged yesterday at Birmingham, Ala., for the murder of John Holland, a negro, in Jefferson county, eighteen months ago. This is the first time in the history of this county that a white man has been hanged for killing a negro. Both men admitted having killed the negro, one claiming the negro had accused him of stealing chickens, the other that the negro had attempted to draw a weapon on him.

Twenty children were imprisoned yesterday near Greensburg, Pa., under a falling wall, when a terrific windstorm blew out one side of the Hill View Schoolhouse. Miss Mary Crissinger, the teacher, was seriously injured, and every child suffered from fright. The children were dugout of the debris by their parents. One child, Alice Christner, aged eight years, was missing several hours. She was later found in the ruins, but a large blackboard had protected her from the falling bricks.

Girls of Brennan College at Gainsville, Ga., have proved the fallacy of the argument that a woman cannot keep a secret. Five hundred of them have kept one for a year. Last summer Prof. Thomas Musgrove, organ instructor at Brennan, and Miss Melissa Davis, one of his pupils, were married. The student body knew of the romance, but the bride asked that it be kept secret until she and her husband were ready to announce it. Five hundred students promised. Not a word was to pass their lips, and not a word has. It was through a man that the marriage finally became known. Prof. Musgrove himself announced it.

Johnson Grenson, a negro accused of murdering Samuel McClure, a white man, early yesterday was hanged at Union City, Tenn., by a mob yesterday afternoon on a prominent street corner in the presence of 1,000 people. McClure, 70 years old, investigated a noise in his kitchen during the night to find a negro eating there. The intruder refused to leave unless given money, whereupon Mr. McClure shot at him. Grenson, who is said to have implicated another negro in a confession, returned later in the night, broke into the house, and shot the old man with a shotgun. McClure died at noon. The other negro is being sought.

ANOTHER MAN IS BITTEN BY DOG

Frank Ford Attacked by Canine at Corner of King and Fairfax Streets.

IS BITTEN ON THE LEG.

Case of Mrs. Entwisle Charged With Harboring Vicious Dog is Held up Pending Further Evidence .

Another resident of Alexandria was bitten by a dog last night bringing the total number of persons recently bitten up to five, two of whom have died from hydrophobia, and considerably increasing the uneasiness felt in all sections of the city from the menace of the hundreds of curs that roam the streets.

The latest victim was E. L. Ford, who was bitten on the leg by a dog said to have bene owned by Mrs. Charles Dearborn. Mr. Ford was passing on Fairfax street near King last night at 7 o'clock when the dog, a black and white shepherd, sprung at him and inflicted a severe bite. His wound was cauterized and he was given the Pasteur treatment.

There were also alarge number of witnesses in court to hear the case of Mrs. Martha E. Entwisle, who was charged with harboring a vicious bull dog which was the cause of the death of Raymond Struder, the little boy who died several weeks ago at the Alexandria Hospital from hydrophubia. JEWISH FEAST OF PURIM

Hebrew Children Will Hold Celebration in Synagogue Tomorrow Night

The Hebrew Feast of Purim coincides on the coming Sunday with the Christian Easter holiday. The Jewish Passover, which corresponds to the Easter-tide, does not come this year until a month later, on Tuesday, April 22.

It is very seldom however, that the Passover and Easter are so far apart. Usually they fall within a week or 10 days of each other, an interval of a month being very rare. It is due partly to the fact that this is a leap year in the Jewish calendar. The year consisting of 13 months. As a result all the other Jewish holidays fall late this time. The Feast of Passover which is observed for seven days by Reform Jews and eight days by the Orthodox comes the latter part of April, the Feast of Weeks June 2 and the Hebrew New Year October 2, all unusually late dates in the ritual of the synagogue.

The Feast of Purim, or "Lots," which will be observed by Jews all over the world tomorrow, celebrates the victory of Mordecai, the faithful Jew, over Haman, the grand vizier of King Ahasuerus, who plotted the destruction of the Jews, in Persia, is related in the Book of Esther. Mordecai's cousin, Esther, according to the Biblical narrative, had been elevated to the throne as wife of the King, whom the historians identify with the Xerxes, and with whom the Greeks were engaged in a momentous struggle early in the fifth century before the present era. Esther, through her intercession with the King, saved the Persian Jews and Haman was hanged on the very gallows which he had erected for Mordecai.

In the book of Esther the 13th and 14th days of Adar are designated as days of rejoicing for Hebrew people in Persia. Only the latter date, which is Sunday, has, however, been generally observed. The festival is celebrated in the synagogues by the reading of the Book of Esther, which is known a sthe "Megillah," the evening before, and the recital of a special prayer at the morning service. It is a time of general rejoicing and is made the occasion of bestowing gifts among relatives and friends.

Of late, especially in the United States, Jewish people generally have observed the festival by making gifts to the poor and emphasizing the cause of charity. In the Sabbath schools of congregations entertainments are held to mark the joyous occasion, and in many Jewish homes the young people masquerade and go on visits to their friends on the eve of the feast.

The word "Purim" is supposed to be a Persian word meaning "lots," and the festival is so called because the day on which the destruction of the Persian Jews was determined upon was chosen by lots.

Children of Hebrew residents of the city will engage in festivities of the season in the synagogue on north Washington street tomorrow night.

TWO JUVENILE BURGLARS

Sixteen-Year-Old Youths Start on Crusade Last Night—One Had a Pistol

Two young boys, Edward Wells and Eugene Craddock, both 16 years old, whose fathers are well known citiens of Alexandria, started on a career of crime last night to secure sufficient funds with which to embark on life far away from Alexandria. They first entered the wholesale drug store of E. S. Leadbeater and Sons, where Craddock was employed, but their only plunder was $1.40 secured from a cash drawer. They endeavored to open the cash register as well as the safe, but were unable to do so.

According to the police the couple effected an entrance into the store through an opening in the sidewalk on the Fairfax street side, ascended via the elevator and after accomplishing the purpose of their visit made their exit on the King street side, leaving the front door open

Disappointed at their lack of spoils they next endeavored to break into the store of Ahern Bros. in the southwestern portion of the city. While in the act of taking off the padlock from the front door they were captured by officers Nicholson and Roland. Wells was armed with a 38 calibre revolver which he told the police he was prepared to use if he had an opportunity. The boys confessed to the authorities that they had stolen three chewing gum machines, two from the store of A. S. Doniphan and one from William Grimes.

Justice Caton sentenced the boys to the reform school.

Tailored and Dress Styles in Girls' Easter Millinery

Variety of styles is so broad in girls' Millinery that no difficulty will be experienced in finding the hat that is wanted, and at the price that is desired. Mothers and their daughters will not have to alter their own opinions to coincide with the hats we display, because we have prepared a display that is meeting with universal approval.

Smart and becoming shapes in fine straws, hemps, and all the materials in vogue, nearly all the shapes adjust wel ldown over the head, but there are many variations, and some of them are entirely foreign in this type.

In trimmings and colors there are many strikingly unusual combinations; and also the very soft, dainty effects that we have always admired and associated with the small girl. Every hat has the merit of becomingness.

It will be a real joy for the mother and the daughter to select their Easter and Spring Hat from this varied and complete display.

NEWS OF THE OLD DOMINION.

MAY STOP BETTING.

Governor to Put End to Race Track Gambling in Norfolk.

Richmond, March 22.—Though he refused positively several days ago to discuss the matter, Governor Mann now admits that he is again on the trail of the Jamestown race track gamblers.

It was learned yesterday that his excellency held a conference not long since with Attorney General Williams and that he told that official that race gambling must be routed to the tall timbers. The governor did not use this language, but what he said amounted to the same thing.

Meanwhile, lawyers well versed in such matters, seriously doubt the ability of the Governor or anybody else to break up gambling at Jamestown under the existing laws. They say the governor will have to go to the Legislature and have more stringent laws placed on the books before he can accomplish anything in this direction. They point out that this has been done quite effectively in other States.

The annual spring meet of the Jamestown Club will begin this year on April 1st.

CLAUDE MAY NOT GET MEDAL.

Some Doubt as to Admission to Death Cell of Delegation.

Richmond, Va., March 22.—The policy of Maj. J. B. Wood, superintendent of the Virginia penitentiary, is to wait until he gets to a bridge before attempting to cross it.

So he declared yesterday when asked if he would grant admittance to the Allen sympathizers in event they called to present Claude Allen with a hero medal for defending his father during his fusillade in the Hillsville court.

He intimated, however, that it would be within his province to refuse admittance to such callers, if he saw fit to do so. He was sure there would be no conflict between him and the prison board on this point, even if all the members of the board do favor executive clemency for the condemned men.

If current reports be true, some of the Allen sympathizers from Southwest Virginia will arrive here early next week with a gold medallion for Claude. The delegation, it is said, will consist mostly of women.

It is also reported that Claude will in turn deliver the medal to Miss Nellie Wisler, his pretty blue-eyed mountain sweetheart, to be kept as a token of love and affection from him, should he be unsuccessful in his fight to escape the electric chair.

It is learned on good authority that Claude will precede his father to the chair if both men have to die the same day.

ESCAPES ELECTRIC CHAIR.

Supreme Court Says Verdict is Not Supported by Evidence.

Richmond, March 22.—Finding that the evidence in the case of Hezekiah Cook, of York county, does not support a verdict of murder in the first degree, with the punishment of electrocution, the Supreme Court of Appeals on Thursday handed down an opinion reversing the judgment of the Circuit Court and ordering a new trial. This means that the prisoner will never die in the electric chair for this offense.

Cook was convicted of the murder of Thomas Bartlett, his half-brother. The only eye-witnesses were the prisoner and a woman named Maude Page, and it is pointed out by the Supreme Court in an opinion by Judge Cardwell that their accounts of the killing were not only the same at the trial as were related by them from the beginning but that they are borne out by the evidence of others as to correlating circumstances. The theory of the Commonwealth was that Cook killed Bartlett because of jealousy, but the opinion says that this is not confirmed by evidence. The defense says it was a blow struck only with the intention of disabling Bartlett, as he was making an attack on the woman, who was calling for help, and that Cook did not even know who his victim was.

NEGRO SHOT DEAD BY GIRL.

Was With Two Whites Who Tried to Seize Man With Sister.

Bedford City, Va., March 22.—A young white girl named Olive Dooley shot and killed a negro named Mose Calloway at her home, near Rocky Ford, Bedford county last Tuesday.

The girl and her sister lived alone with their father, N. C. ooley, in a house of two rooms.

According to the current version, the father, feeling that he had grounds to suspect the relations between the two girls and W. A. Gibbs, whom he employed, set two of his friends, Jack Zimmerman and White Dooley, to watch the hired man in the employer's absence on Tuesday night. The watchers were joined by the negro, and when, it is alleged, they saw Gibbs and the younger of the girls together they proceeded to break down the doors to seize the hired man. To get at him they had to pass through the other room, where the older girl was. She warned them away, seizing a gun when they persisted.

As the door fle wopen an dthe trio entered the girl fired and Calloway dropped, dying in a short time.

The other two men captured Gibbs and brought him to Bedford City about 2 o'clock Wednesday morning.

Wednesday afternoon Dr. T. P. West, coroner, summoned a jury and held an inquest. The jury found a verdict in accordance with the circumstances, but no further arrests were made, and the persons concerned are cited to appear April 1.

CONFIRMS HIGH LICENSE.

Bristol City Council Refuses to Assess Saloons Less Than $2,500.

Bristol, Va., March 22.—Despite the operation of the Webb Anti-liquor shipping law, which prohibits a class of shipments, the city council of Bristol, Va., has denied saloons and liquor houses doing business in this city a reduction in the annual license.

The privilege will continue at $2,500 a year for each liquor house.

Liquor Destroyed.

Roanoke, Va., March 22.—The destruction of six plants, 7,000 gallons of beer, and more than 100 gallons of corn whiskey is the record of the first raid of local revenue officers.

T. D. Shelton and Peter C. Pritchard, Jr., made the raid. The raid was in Franklin and Henry counties, the officers returning to Roanoke today.

STEAMER IN A STORM.

Vessel Severely Damaged While off Hatteras.

Norfolk, Va., March 22.—The steamer Dorchester, of the Merchants and Miners' Line, plying between Savannah and Philadelphia, put into the Roads yesterday in distress. She was severely damaged by a storm encountered off Hatteras, in a leaking condition and with cargo listed. The commander did not ask for aid, and attempted to continue his voyages on to the Quaker City, but was finally forced to put in here.

The Dorchester docked at Newport News, where her passengers were landed. She will go into the drydocks for examination and repairs. The steamer had 20 passengers aboard. All were safely landed. It is feared that her cargo, principally composed of cotton, is damaged.

EASTER SUNDAY.

'Twas Easter Sunday. The full blossomed trees
Filled all the air with fragarance and with joy.

Tomorrow will be Easter Sunday, and while all the trees may not be in bloom, the indications, at present, are for a bright and pleasant day, although it falls this year on the ides of March.

Like Christmas, the spirit of Easter enters into people of all creeds in every Christian nation. Unfortunately "the faith once delivered to the saints" has been split up into about one hundred and fifty different denominations, some of which adhere to church calendars, while others repudiate all the so_called holy days of the year save the first day of the week. Yet when the day celebrating the resurrection of the Great Author of the Faith comes around, the season animates all with the hopes set before them in the most vital event in the life of the Great Teacher, and upon which hinges the faith of all who call upon the Holy One of Israel.

While the celebration of Easter is not commanded by the New Testament, many earnest and sincere people from time immemorial have realized the obligation to commemorate the anniversary of an event which means so much to people of all creeds.

The Christian Church is composed of many millions of souls, which have come out of every nation and tongue. Some have been born with certain predilections which are difficult of eradication and under such conditions, it is a human impossibility to get all to speak the same thing.

A few centuries ago misguided men allowed their religious differences to generate bad blood and at times serious conflicts were caused by religious disputes. Both sides quoted the Bible to substantiate their claims, but they seemed to have avoided passages which might have brought about better feeling between the belligerents.

A few extracts, well-known (or should be) to all can be read with profit:

"Who art thou that judgeth another man's servant? to his own master he standeth or falleth.

"One man esteemeth one day above another; another esteemeth every day alike. Let every man be fully persuaded in his own mind.

"He that regardeth the day, regardeth it unto the Lord; and he that regardeth not the day to the Lord he doth not regard it. He that eateth, eateth to the Lord, for he giveth God thanks; and he that eateth not, to the Lord he eateth not, and giveth God thanks.

The Jewish Feast of Purim will also be celebrated tomorrow night. This is known as the Feast of Esther, and is a joyous season among Israelites, as it commemorates a thrilling event in the history of the race—the miscarriage of Haman's plan to exterminate the Hebrew race while they were under the rule of the Persian King Ahasuerus. It is celebrated on lines similar to those of the Christmas season.

While Jews are not commanded in the Pentateuch to observe the Feast of Purim, as the giving of the law was about one thousand years before the occurrences set forth in the Book of Esther, the children of Israel formulated a law which they incorporated with the others for the observance of the anniversary of this plan interposition of Jehovah to save the race from annihiliation.

PROBLEMS FOR METHODISTS..

Wamon Suffrage in Church and Change of Name.

When the Baltimore Conference of the Southern Methodist church convenes in Staunton, Va., on March 26, there will be two questions of vital importance brought up for some definite action and an ultimatum reached if possible. These two questions are votes for women and the much-talked change of its name. The votes for women, or the suffrage proposotion, as it is generaly known is the same which a number of other denominations put in to effect some year ago and which in many cases gives the woman the equal right to vote in church elections and to have all the other prerogatives the same as the male members of the church, and which right has never been accorded the woman of the Southern Methodist Church. It is claimed in their church circles that the women who are active in the missionary movement and other church affairs are anxious for a chance at the ballot of the church.

The question of dropping the word South is being bitterly opposed by many of the churches and in a recent issue of the California Christian Advocate, which is a Northern Methodist organ, the following article appeared:

"The Methodist Episcopal Church South is submitting to a vote of the annual conference the question of changing the name of the Methodist Episcopal Church in America. The question of dropping the word South is the real question at issue. The name of the Methodist Episcopal church is thus practically assumed by the Methodist Episcopal Church South. It is not likely that the local churches would ad dthe words (in America). To all intents and purposes, therefore, the Methodist Episcopal Church South proposes to assume the name of another church. The ethics, whatever might be said of the expediency of changing the name, would be essentially changed. The cardinal points of the compass—north, south, east and west—may, of course, be changed by a vote of the conferences of the Methodist Episcopal Church South, but we doubt whether the vote of the conferences would change the Ten Commandments or any one of them. Some old saying has it that whosoever appropriates the purse of another appropriates trash, but the case does not apply to those who appropriate the name, the good name of a sister church."

IN MEMORIAM.

In sad remembrance of my dear wife, LOUISE ZIMMERMAN, who departed this life one year ago March 23, 1912.

Over our hearts in the year that has flown
No love like her love ever has shown.
No other worship abides and endures,
faithful, unselfish and patient like yours.
Yet for your presence with yearning and pain
Long we tonight to behold you again.

—BY HER HUSBAND.

The much-talked about benches were placed in the House of Representatives yesterday, in lieu of the desks and revolving chairs which were removed immediately after Congress adjourned on March 4. The new seating arrangement was approved by Speaker Clark and the other members who were at the Capitol when the carpenters had completed their work. With the benches in place there is a seating capacity for 450 persons, this being to more than the membership of the new House. During the installation work yesterday several members entered the hall and gave the seats a trial. It was agreed by all that they will be a great improvement over the old plan.

EASTER TOGS.

Well, tomorrow's Easter day,
And the ladies will display
Millinery that has cost the men folks coin,
In new gowns they'll all be dressed,
And they'll surely look their best,
In the Easter parade on King street which they'll join.

Yes, the madam's fresh and gay
In her new spring suit of gray,
And she's quite a girl again this Easter morn,
But her old man's just the same,
The old clothes upon his frame
Are the same he's worn since Isabel was born.

Now this same Isabel
Is full-grown and looking swell,
With a Paris-made creation on her head,
But her pa is wearing yet
A derby-hat won on a bet
On election, years before Grandpa was dead.

And fair Miss Geraldine
Is attired like a queen
In an outfit that would suit an actress star,
But her dad's old faded clothes,
Worn cravat and mended hose,
Are the same he had before the Spanish war.

Still the old man doesn't fuss,
It has been forever thus,
To dress in style the women will not fail,
And he will wear a vest
Without buttons and unpressed,
And fasten his suspenders with a nail.

If Urban Lambert wins this case in the Supreme Court of Appeals, can Bob Barrett?

If a silver offering is ten cents, is Judge Nicol?

What we are consumed with curiosity to know is this. If a fellow were to win that jar of money up at Allen's drug store would he have enough tao buy one of those lots it is advertising? (Johnny Graham please answer.)

Pet rabbits are a symbol
Of the happy Easter day,
And eggs all dyed for rolling,
With which the children play.

But we don't believe these self same eggs
Were e'er laid by a bunny,
Else they would lay them all the year
And make a lot of money.

Alienists yesterday examined the first "crank" of the Wilson administration. The man gave his name as Dr. Charles A. Schwab, of Dallas, Texas. He is being detained in the Washington asylum, in which institution he was placed Tuesday when arrested by Secret Service men on his arrival in Washington. The man said he was on his way to the White house to be sworn in as President and he had in his possession a number of written messages purporting to have been sent to him by Chief Justice White, of the Supreme Court. It is believed that he wrote them himself.

INDICTED FOR MURDER.

Holy Rollers Accused of Killing David King.

Roanoke, Va., March 22.—Not since the Allen outlaws were landed in the penitentiary have there been so many criminal cases in the Carroll county circuit court as were heard there this week the grand jury having returned 101 indictments for the illicit sale of liquor and forty-one for various other offenses.

Twenty-one indictments were returned against members of the religious sect known as the Holy Rollers, charging them with being responsible for the death of David King, which occurred several weeks ago.

It is alleged that King's wife offered prayers for his removal, which in time came about, the Holy Rollers being charged with causing his death. It is reported that King's wife was a follower of the sect and that he had repeatedly taken her away from Holy Roller meetings.

The Rev. John Henry Frazer, who is among those indicted, is alleged to have told King the Holy Rollers would kill him if he did not desist in taking his wife away from the meetings.

The Holy Rollers attribute King's death as an answer to their prayers for his removal on account of his opposition to the sect.

Automobilists Drowned.

Syracuse, N. Y., March 21.—Pinned under their overturned automobile in a ditch of water, Lottie Voorhees and Raymond B. Haist were drowned today. Haist was driving the car along the road near Free Bridge, in the Montezuma swamp, when the machine skidded at a turn and capsized into the ditch. Myrtle Freeman and John O'Connor were thrown clear of the machine and stunned. When O'Connor revived he tried to rescue the two men who were pinned underneath the car but was unable to help them

Five Persons Killed.

Medicine Hat, Alberta, March 21.—Revised figures yesterday indicated nine persons were killed and twelve injured in an explosion Wednesday which demolished the Malcolm Canning Company's plant here. Plumbers were repairing a broken gas pipe when a small fire broke out, causing the explosion. It is not known how many bodies are in the ruins.

Joseph Stefunski, a cowboy, from Geyser, Mont., apparently demented, threw the Buffalo, N. Y., city hall into a panic Wednesday afternon when he entered the mayor's office and opened fire on the clerks and a policeman on duty there with a revolver. Charles E. Lang, a policeman, who grappled with the man, was shot four times, but probably will recover. Stefunski called twice at the office Wednesday morning, asking for Mayor Fuhrmann or his secretary. He had demanded $100.

SUNNY BROOK
THE PURE FOOD WHISKEY

To arrive at the top in any department of commercial effort one must produce, offer and do better than has been produced, offered or done before. Fifty years ago we determined that Sunny Brook must be the finest whiskey distilled and aged in Old Kentucky and we have never deviated from this policy. Today we are known as the largest distillers of fine old whiskies in the world.

Sunny Brook reached the top because it surpassed all others in mellow age, rich flavor, quet and tonic properties. The friends Sunny Brook made fifty years ago because of its high quality and purity are still its friends, and all over this broad land a majority of the discriminating public demands Sunny Brook and absolutely refuses substitutes of any kind. Sunny Brook is a real honest, straight Kentucky Whiskey and is bottled in bond. Every bottle is filled and then sealed with the "Green Stamp," under the direct supervision of U. S. Inspectors. If you want to know you are getting the best always ask for Sunny Brook—The Pure Food Whiskey. READ THE LABEL.

HAWK AND TURTLE FIGHT.

Startling Method Used by a Bird in Flight.

Richmond, March 22.—It happened on the natal day of St. Patrick. Meaning a most unbelievable occurrence concerning an engagement between a turtle and a fish hawk, as witnessed by Shamus Cardigan, a disciple of Cincinnatus, who resides in Chesterfield. The participants in this remarkable incident comprised a turtle who, in compliance with the color scheme of the day, had a green back (no reference to money) and an unusually large fish hawk which boasted of nothing green other than a pair of pea-green optics and his envy for the luxuriant moss-colored back of the turtle in the case.

Unable to resist the alluring summer weather of the present period, turtles have emerged from their warm winter bed among the mud and small fish—such as minnows, black bass, etc.—have departed from their homes among the deeper channels to shallow water. Small fish are delectable morsels to the delicate taste of turtles and fish hawks. Thereupon devolves this most wonderful happening.

"Invade, it was a most remarkable thing," said Mr. Cardigan, in speaking of the incident to a rural acquaintance, and he then related a story to the friend which follows:

"Though the fishing season is not yet at its height, Mr. Cardigan, with rod and bait, started out early from his home, near Bon Air last Monday morning, reaching a stream of average size, where he located to tempt the members of the finny tribe.

"Shortly after he had seated himself on the bank o fthis stream, Mr. Cardigan was suddenly startled to see a very large turtle bob up from under the water, with serenity, a few feet from him. This member of the subclass chelonia tribe did not take kindly to the efforts of Mr. Cardigan in decreasing his stock of fishes and performed several squatic feats accompanied by grunts that told of his resentment. Mr. Cardigan gave a casual glance at a large fish hawk, which was hovering around the spot but paid no particular attention.

A minute later the turtle, which had been floating languidly about, happened to see a shining and plump black bass. The fish hawk, now nearer upon the water, saw this dainty piece of food also. Both turtle and fish hawk darted for the fish. They met together in the stream and forthwith a battle ensued between them, the fish escaping. With all its strength the turtle tried to drag the bird under water and drown it. But it was not large enough to accomplish its desire.

"Angered that the fish hawk should have robbed him of such a fine catch, the turtle battled fiercely, however, while the fish hawk fought to escape. The struggle between bird and turtle afforded an exciting spectacle to the lone fisherman, who watched with eager interest. It was nip and tuck between the two for about five minutes, when the turtle became somewhat exhausted. With its feet wrapped tightly around the body of its opponent, the bird, with a supreme effort, dragged the turtle upon a nearby rock, where it lay panting from exhaustion. It was then that Mr. Cardigan saw the most remarkable portion of the occurrence.

"Taking advantage of the disabled turtle, the fish hawk, showing almost human instinct, wrapped its claws around a jagged stone, weighing about two pounds, and flew swiftly upward in a direct line with the inert turtle. Upon reaching a height of nearly 1,000 feet, the fish hawk, taking careful and deliberate aim, hurled the missile at the helpless turtle. Its aim was deadly and the rock struck the turtle amidships with a terrific momentum, crushing in its shell like so much cardboard and killing it instantly.

"After accomplishing its desire the fish hawk circled swiftly downward toward the body of the turtle, and, perching upon the back of the relaxed chelonia, began plucking at the white meat, croaking with evident satisfaction.

"Be Hiven! that bir_r-rud was a par-r-ut ov the ould bhoy himself. Oi think," said Mr. Cardigan in ending.
